Library Orientation

Date	:	30 th June, 2026
Venue	:	Library, Main Building
Organizing Unit/Agency	:	Knowledge Resource Centre, Nagindas Khandwala College
Number of Participants	:	32
Activity	:	A Library Orientation Programme was conducted for the Postgraduate (PG) students of psychology department to familiarize them with the library resources, facilities, and services available for their academic and research needs. The orientation provided an overview of the library's collection, including textbooks, reference books, journals, e-resources, databases, and other digital learning resources. Students were also introduced to the library rules and regulations, circulation services, catalogue/search facilities, and procedures for accessing online resources. The session aimed to develop students' information-searching skills and encourage effective and independent use of library resources for academic study, assignments, and research. The programme was informative and interactive, enabling the students to gain confidence in making optimal use of the library and its services.
